Description:

In the morning we'll enjoy the underground river of the San José Grotto. It is a natural cave of incomparable beauty. It is also the longest navigable underground river in Europe and it will allow us to delve into the depths of the surface by boat, furrowing calm waters and admiring the astonishing shapes of the rocks that have been shaped over thousands of years.

Go back and forth in time at breakneck speed imagining the growth of stalactites and stalagmites, listening to the silence and the murmur of water, the echo produced by a drop of water and discovering a beautiful landscape that nature has kept in secret since the dawn of time until today.
